

Web Resources

nmai.si.edu/

The National Museum of the American Indian, part of the Smithsonian Institution. Offers an array of resources for museum-goers and online researchers alike.

<http://memory.loc.gov/ammem/index.html>

From the Library of Congress's American Memory project, a useful collection of materials relating to Native American history.

<http://public.csusm.edu/nadp/>

The Native American Documents Project. This website, from California State University at San Marcos, makes documents of federal Indian policy history accessible online.

usgwarchives.net/maps/cessions/

Indian Land Cessions in the United States, U.S. Digital Map Archives. Historic land cession maps indexed by states depicted. Source: Indian Land Cessions in the United States, compiled by Charles C. Royce.

bancroft.berkeley.edu/Exhibits/nativeamericans/portrayals.html

Portrayals of Native Americans. UC Berkeley, Bancroft Library webpage with images of Native Americans ranging from 1590 until 1996. Site is illustrated with archival materials and images from books, pamphlets, and other sources.

<http://www.ncai.org/>

The National Congress of American Indians, founded in 1944, is the oldest and largest American Indian and Alaska Native organization serving the broad interests of tribal governments and communities.

<https://www.archives.gov/research/native-americans/pictures>

The National Archives' Native American Heritage website presents over 200 historical images along with other information and resources.

<https://www.usa.gov/tribes>

A U.S. government site offering a list of federally recognized Indian tribes and other resources for Native Americans and general researchers alike.

<https://nativeamericanheritagemonth.gov/>

Website celebrating Native American Heritage Month (November), sponsored by a number of major national cultural institutions and hosted by the Library of Congress.